Art Unit: 3712

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-40, & 54, drawn to an arrow having a shaft and an insert within the shaft to receive a point, classified in class 473, subclass 578.
- II. Claim 55, drawn to an arrow tip assembly, classified in class 473, subclass 578.
- III. Claims 47-53, drawn to a method of coupling a point to an arrow shaft, classified in class 29, subclass 592.
- IV. Claims 56-69, drawn to an FRP arrow shaft, classified in class 473, subclass 578.
- V. Claims 41-46, drawn to an arrow insert installation tool, classified in class 81, subclass 488.
- VI. Claims 70-72, drawn to an arrow preparation tool, classified in class 451, subclass 540.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the insert could be integrally cast with the shaft, rather than being separately insertable. The subcombination has separate utility such as use with a shaft with different dimensions than that claimed.

Inventions (VI & VI) and (I, II, & IV) are related as apparatus and product made. The inventions in this relationship are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the apparatus as claimed is not an obvious apparatus for making the product and the apparatus can be used for making a different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different apparatus (MPEP § 806.05(g)). In this case the arrows can be assembled by inserting the insert and grinding the end using different tools.

Inventions III and I are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)).

In the instant case the arrow shaft could be integrally cast with the insert.

Art Unit: 3712

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

If Applicant elects Group I, the Arrow, this application would contain claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention:

- A. Arrow with female insert which receives male point;
- B. Arrow with male insert which receives female point.

If applicant elects Group I, Applicant is further required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claims 13-15, 18, 21, 24-26, & 28-30 are generic.

* * * * *

If Applicant elects Group IV, the FRP Arrow Shaft, this application would contain claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention:

Art Unit: 3712

A. Arrow shaft having a weight or spine falling on a plot of weight versus spine above and to the left of a straight line that includes a first point having a weight of 190 grains and an outside diameter of 0.275 inches, and a second point having a weight of 320 grains and an outside diameter of 0.305 inches;

B. Arrow shaft having a spine or outside diameter falling on a plot of spine versus outside diameter below and to the left of a straight line that includes a first point having a spine of 0.320 inches and an outside diameter of 0.295 inches, and a second point having a spine of 0.480 inches and an outside diameter of 0.280 inches.

If Applicant elects Group IV, Applicant is further required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, no claim is generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Art Unit: 3712

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
